Manager's Commentary

We have received some enquiries as to why we did not join in the unseemly rush to issue a press release in the past week or so feigning a lack of surprise at the removal of foreign ownership limits or attempting to justify why the portfolio will benefit from the relaxation in only a severely limited way having sold off the crown jewels in order to inflate short-term performance last year. Regular observers of our output will be aware that we had no need to do so as we had already been somewhat of a lone voice on the topic for several months. It is a rare event when one is right and the market is wrong and we know that you know so there is no need for us to mention it again.

The rally is on and we suggest that you stay for the ride as the VNI prepares to pass 650 for the first time since March 2008 ahead of the limit-free excitement.
