Manager's Commentary

A volatile month, as was the case globally, with the VNI down as much as 9.6% at one stage mid-month a few days before the Tet (Lunar New Year) holiday. The Fund's NAV did not suffer as much, falling "only" 6.2% at the worst point but did not rebound as hard, finishing the month still down as flows focused once again on the generally pretty fully valued top-10 by market capitalisation, of which we own only Vinamilk. Portfolio concentration remains somewhat beyond optimal with the top-3 representing close to 60% of the total and we are cognisant of that fact and trimming into strength. The overweight is a result of some fairly stellar performance from those tickers over the past several months and there are, of course, far worse problems to have. Outside of the top-10 "blue chips" the market continues in consolidation mode, which should hopefully encourage those not distracted by corporate-dictated (in some cases literally) so-called "research" puffing stocks ahead of placements of existing shares by insiders. That works as long as inflows continue, but caveat emptor when the music stops.
