Manager's Commentary

The market has taken a couple of major hits recently; the more obvious to the index, which was down 11.5% on the 28th before beginning a rally which has taken us to within 1% of the end-April level at the time of writing. Less tangible is the knock to the market's reputation resulting from the debacle surrounding the listing of Techcombank (TCB); the largest IPO in Vietnam's history at the time (late April) and for at least a couple of days thereafter. It must have come as a mild surprise to the several behemoth institutions which selected the issue as their first venture into the Vietnam market to see a six times over-subscribed, US$922 million offering fall by 20% on the first day of listing, and by a shade under 29% to the bottom before the support operation woke up. Like the advertising on the Aston Martin, Rolls Royce and Lamborghini parked in my street, this surely qualifies as an "only in Vietnam" moment. Our take on the post deal euphoria would be that the impact of filling the foreign quota at issue should be noted and resisted in future - however satisfying for the ego of those making a name for themselves - and "it's not our fault guv'nor; we was only following orders" from the broker is a poor excuse.
