Manager's Commentary

Another forgettable month, with the Viet Nam Index trading in a 31-point range, testing (and holding) support at the 940 level. Most notable action concerned performance buffering among the peer group after five months of poor returns. We saw a fair degree of selling from funds of, most notably, the foreigners' darlings (except for us) Mobile World (MWG) and Phu Nhuan Jewelry (PNJ), with the always inflated premia coming in a bit. The last trading day of June saw some frankly outrageous 1980s style window dressing, with one of the larger funds having their month- (and year-) end estimated Net Asset Value re-stated by a "small" amount (1.3%) after a Directors' review. That knocked us down a few places in the peer group YTD performance table given the limited overlap in our portfolio but we imagine that was corrected in the first trading day or so of July, and in any event you are familiar with our views on race distance.

The market shrugged off any mild disappointment with MSCI very quickly, with a final re-test of the 940 level on 28th June before said window dressing kicked in, and has been trending upwards for the past two weeks on better trade sentiment and expectations of an early cut in US interest rates, although how long that will last is anyone's guess.

Locally we are about to enter the thick of 2nd quarter earnings season, with optimism picking up after a relatively poor first quarter had calculators elsewhere working overtime before admitting their failure to be able to maintain mid- to high-teen percentage growth forecasts for 2019. Hopefully indications of a pick-up as with the economy post-Tet will set the foundations for the achievement of more realistic targets, with an acceleration in 2020.

The firming of the Dong against the USD by almost 1% since the May lows should be taking the pressure off any "currency manipulator" action, and the government's positive engagement with the US on trans-shipment and its close monitoring of any breaches should ensure that there is no rush to tariffs. Add that to a reasonable string of foreign net buying and better earnings growth and we can certainly hope for a more interesting second half to the year, Trump permitting.
